

2005-06 Annual Report

A Year in Review: Accomplishments & Milestones

By Kevin Gorman, Executive Director
kevin@gorgefriends.org

Announcement of the Norman Yeon bequest: The son of the roadmaster of the Historic Columbia River Highway and brother of the man who prodded Nancy Russell to start Friends of the Columbia Gorge quietly left nearly half of his estate to Friends of the Columbia Gorge. The $4.3 million bequest is the largest conservation gift in Oregon history and is funding the launch of Friends of the Columbia Gorge Land Trust as well as our endowment and special projects.

Launching the Friends of the Columbia Gorge Land Trust: Nearly two years in the making, Friends' land trust kicked into gear in 2006 by hiring Hood River resident Kate McBride, purchasing the $1.5 million Cleveland property, the crown jewel of Cape Horn and launching the $4 million Campaign for Cape Horn. See pages 2 and 4 for more details.

Department of Interior frowns on Gorge casino: The Department of Interior dealt two setbacks to Gorge casino supporters in the past 18 months: first denying the Governor's compact with the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs and more recently rejecting the scoping report submitted by the Tribes' consultants, demanding that an on-reservation alternative be included in the list of options. The latest development is testimony to the growing concern over off-reservation casinos. Conservation Director Michael Lang traveled to Washington D.C. twice, once to testify before Senator John McCain's Committee on Indian Affairs. See page 2 for more details.

Gorge Wilderness moves through the House: With heavy lifting done by Representatives Greg Walden (R) and Earl Blumenauer (D), a Wilderness bill including more than 22,000 acres of U.S. Forest Service land in the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area moved through a House committee that has rejected nearly every Wilderness bill for past six years. Passage of a Senate companion bill could ensure greater protection for Gorge forests.

Securing $1.5 million for Forest Service purchases of critical lands: Despite drastic cuts to federal land acquisition budgets nationwide, Friends lobbied to secure $1.5 million for Forest Service purchases in the Columbia Gorge. We were especially gratified to receive the support of the entire Congressional delegation including Representatives Greg Walden (R-OR) and Doc Hastings (R-WA).

2005-06 Accomplishments & Major Challenges

By Michael Lang, Conservation Director, michael@gorgefriends.org and Kate McBride, Land Trust Manager, kate@gorgefriends.org

Twenty years of Gorge protection!

The Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area Act was passed into law on November 17, 1986. The Scenic Area Act has undoubtedly protected our beloved Gorge from urban sprawl and thoughtless resource extraction while expanding public lands to protect the scenic beauty of the Gorge, protect fish and wildlife habitat and create more parks and trails. But how well is the Scenic Area Act protecting the Gorge? In 2005-2006, Friends received funding to begin determining whether the Gorge is effectively protected under existing rules and what the impacts might be if protections are weakened.

Gorge receives funding to purchase and protect land: Friends' intensive efforts to gain Congressional support for federal funds to protect land in the Columbia Gorge paid off when Congress passed, and the President signed, a bill containing $1.5 million for Forest Service land purchases in the Columbia Gorge.

Casino gets major setback: In a major victory for opponents of a Gorge casino, the U.S. Department of the Interior has declared that the Warm Springs Tribes' casino application failed to meet federal environmental requirements and announced that the scoping report, the fundamental justification for the project, must be rewritten. This action casts the entire proposal in doubt and could require the Tribes to build their new casino on the 640,000-acre Warm Springs reservation.

Gorge/Mt. Hood Wilderness bill passes the House: The Columbia River Gorge stands as the major beneficiary in H.R. 5025, which would designate 78,000 acres of forest land within the Mt. Hood National Forest as wilderness. The Mt. Hood Stewardship Legacy includes 22,000 acres of land within the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area between Oneonta Creek and Hood River. Friends salutes Rep. Blumenauer (D-OR) and Rep. Walden (R-OR) for carefully negotiating and guiding the bill through treacherous waters in the House.

Spectacular view point purchase: The newly formed Friends of the Columbia Gorge Land Trust began its first land purchase and purchase option with two magnificent view parcels on top of Cape Horn in Skamania County. Friends Land Trust intends to create an overlook to honor the efforts of Friends' Founder Nancy Russell and her late husband Bruce. The acquisition of these properties will allow a public Cape Horn Trail along the bluff rim, so all can enjoy the stunning views from this area.

Memaloose trail easement: The Land Trust is working with Wasco County landowners to procure easements to open a wonderful new trail east of Memaloose State Park. The new route will enable hikers to bypass a difficult rock outcropping and dense poison oak. Our long-term goal is to link this section to a larger trail system traversing the Memaloose area.

Land inquiries welcome: Several landowners have contacted the Trust in recent months to inquire about selling or donating their property. We welcome inquiries regarding property both inside and outside the Gorge.

▶ OUTREACH & VOLUNTEER PROGRAMS

Volunteers 2005/06: Friends' members and volunteers helped to keep Gorge protections strong in 2005/06. Our thanks to these active Gorge supporters, who lead hikes, conducted research, attended meetings, entered data, and helped in countless other ways in our Portland and Hood River offices.

Outdoor Programs

By Betsy Toll, Outreach Coordinator
betsy@gorgefriends.org

Friends' recreation program and stewardship efforts provide a valuable means for sharing our appreciation of the natural beauty and rich history of the Columbia Gorge. These programs encourage strong public support for Gorge protection.

- ▶ Our Fall 2005-Spring 2006 hiking program offered more than 80 opportunities for Friends members and the general public to explore the Columbia Gorge.
- ▶ We sponsored 10 stewardship workdays and developed new partnerships with the National Friends of the Forest and SOLV.
- ▶ Our Hikes and Recreation program drew 1,175 participants in 2005/06.
- ▶ 135 outdoor volunteers helped make these programs a great success.

Other 2005/06 highlights:

- ▶ Launched the Friends of the Columbia Gorge Hike Leader Training Program, with support from REI.
- ▶ Produced a Friends Ambassador training presentation for hike leaders and volunteers.
- ▶ Offered 10 special educational outings and events focused on Lewis and Clark's historic 1805 journey through the Gorge.
- ▶ Doubled the number of subscribers on our email action list to 1,220 individuals.
- ▶ Updated and expanded the design of our publications to better serve our members.

▶ GROWING SUPPORT FOR GORGE PROTECTION

The Fundraising Year-in-Review

By Jane Harris, Development Director, jane@gorgefriends.org

Public Support for Gorge Protections Continues to Rise

Membership support this past fiscal year grew by more than 25% from $297,000 last year to $363,000 for the fiscal year ending in June of 2006. This does not include an additional $96,000 in bequests, $22,000 in memorial gifts, $7,000 in corporate contributions, $114,000 in gifts and pledges to the Land Trust, and $113,000 in foundation support.

Revenue from the Endowment and reserves provided approximately $136,000 in additional funding to cover a total budget of $847,500. The Endowment will sit at about $1.4 million thanks to a decision by the board of directors to allocate $1 million from the Yeon bequest to that fund. Our reserve account holds an additional $200,000.

Campaign for Cape Horn: In addition to our success in increasing public support for Gorge protections, Friends now is charged with raising significant support for land acquisition. The Land Trust arm of the organization announced a $4 million Campaign for Cape Horn to cover the costs of purchasing the Cleveland and Collins properties, restoring the landscapes to more natural conditions, and creating a view-point honoring our founder Nancy Russell. To date, we have received a total of $1.27 million in gifts and pledges for the project. With fundraising just getting under way, we are confident we will reach our goal by the end of 2008.
